Egypt who consider themselves special friends of the people of the United States of America. We have worked together, especially during the last international crisis. We have been on the same side. That's the side of justice, of the right, and we have succeeded indeed in rolling back an aggression that was meant to sew havoc in regional and international relations. The responsibility of the United States, the role of the United States, is very much welcomed as the only, the sole super power in the world today, and this role of the United States brings more responsibility on this country, this great country, to lead the worlds, the world, towards prosperity and justice. In the region we intend to work with the United States in order to solve the remaining problems because if we want stability and peace to reign then we will have to address other problems and conflicts, in particular the conflict between Israelis and Palestinians. It is our role, it is our responsibility, as Americans and Egyptians and the rest of Arabs, the rest of nations, to solve that intractable problem in order to have peace and stability returned to this very volatile area of the Middle East. It is also in the interests of the United States, economically, politically, and from points of view of democracy and human rights to help the people of that region regain their stability through justice and through peace. I do not propose to say more than what I have said. I wish to express my pleasure to be here and my honor to be afforded this opportunity to say a few words. Thank you very much."

Currie: "I thank you, Mr. Speaker and Members of the House. When this was...when this Bill was up last the eagle-eyed staffers working with Representative Daniels and Representative Black discovered that there was an error in the section of the...of the Counties Code that we were amending. The underling Bill deals with the problem of people dealing in slum property and not being findable when it comes to taxes. The intent of this Amendment was to put in the Bill the opportunity for the Cook County Recorder of Deeds to collect a fee for the filing and we had inadvertently put that in the downstate county section so Amendment 3 clarifies what was our intent. So I would move adoption of the Amendment."

Speaker McPike: "Any discussion? Representative Black."

The collapse is the word that would be used there. There's an arbitration clause that's added. This has been agreed to by the Department of Insurance, all of those insurance providers and the mine subsidence insurance fund. So, basically, it's in total agreement at this time."

Speaker McPike: "Any Floor Amendments?"

Clerk Leone: "Floor Amendment #1 is offered by Representative Persico."

Speaker McPike: "Excuse me. Is this Amendment printed? Yes. Representative Persico. I apologize. I mispronounced your name. Representative Persico."

Persico: "Thank you, Mr. Speaker. House Bill 461 deals with a rather technical area in our probate law concerning property that is subject to creditors and surviving spouse at the time a person dies. When I first introduced this Bill, I sent it out to title companies, Chicago Bar Association, etc., in asking for their input. They received...I received many good suggestions and input back from them, and but I was unable to get it in form of an Amendment before it was passed out of Committee. So when I went to the Legislative Reference Bureau, they suggested that I completely rewrite the Bill after the enacting clause. So that's what this Floor Amendment deals with."

Speaker McPike: "Gentleman moves for the adoption of the Amendment, and on that Representative Dunn."

Dunn: "Will the Sponsor yield for a question?"

Speaker McPike: "Yes."

Dunn: "If this Amendment is adopted, how does it affect property rights today, how will it change the...the right to receive property in the event of a death?"

Persico: "If this Amendment is adopted, the...when a person dies, domiciled in Illinois, if it's in the form of a revocable trust or a cotton trust, it will be subject to claim just as if in probate."

Dunn: "So, if, if the Amendment is adopted, the property will be subject to claims or it will not? I had trouble hearing you."

Persico: "It will be subject to claims as if it were in probate."

Dunn: "And, today the property would not be subject to claims. Is that correct?"

Persico: "I couldn't...Would you repeat the question, please?"

Dunn: "What is...is property affected by this Amendment subject to claims today?"

Persico: "Not unless it's adopted. No, not unless this Bill is passed, no. Not today, it's not. It deals with revocable trust and cotton trust, this Amendment, in joint tenancy."

Dunn: "I...I don't...I don't, can't hear you. What?"

Persico: "This Amend..."

Dunn: "What...what will creditors be able to reach if this Bill's adopted that they cannot reach today?"

Persico: "Creditors and spouses, surviving spouses, will be able to reach revocable trusts and cotton trusts as well as some parts of the joint tenancies."

Dunn: "And...and can they do that today?"

Persico: "Not unless they are able to prove fraud. This...this Bill deals with only certain cases where a person dies, because of a revocable trust were they able to revoke this trust at their very, you know, at any whim up to the moment they die. This property is now...not now subject to, you know, spousal claims or creditor claims. This Bill here will change that."

Dunn: "All right. Thank you, I...I had trouble hearing. Thank you."

Speaker McPike: "Representative Ewing."

Ewing: "Yes, would the Sponsor yield?"

Persico: "Yes."

Ewing: "Vince...if this, is this just for the grantor in the trust? If I set up a trust, does that mean that on my death it's subject to my creditors or what if a trust is set up for a child or a grandchild? Then does that trust become subject to his creditors when he dies?"

STATE OF ILLINOIS
87th GENERAL ASSEMBLY

Persico: "No, this will be dealt with just like any other area of probate. With the exception that right now it's very difficult to prove fraud. This Bill only deals with cases where there could be fraud involved. It's a very small percentage of the cases, and what it does it just allows creditors and spouses to, because it was a revocable trust, not an irrevocable trust, just a revocable trust, to subject...to be subject to those claims. Those assets would be subject to those claims."

Ewing: "But, I mean, what if a beneficiary dies, and that trust passes on to his heir, are you saying that his estate, his creditors can come in on this, his spouse? Is it only if there's fraud?"

Persico: "What it tries to do is, it'll do away with the intent to defraud since it's so very difficult to prove. If he sets it up in a regular manner where with a will and that, no. It will not touch those at all."

Ewing: "Thank you."

Speaker McPike: "Representative Lang."

Lang: "Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Will the Sponsor yield?"

Persico: "Yes."

Lang: "Representative, this side of the aisle's very confused about what you're trying to do here. Can you start from the top and tell us what this Bill intends to do in English?"

Persico: "Okay. Alright. The way my Bill was originally introduced, it's an Amendment to the Lifetime Transfer of Property Act. Its purpose is to subject the claims of creditors and a surviving spouse certain property that was transferred by the decedent during his lifetime but with respect that he had full control of this in revocation up to...to get the property back into his hands, up to the moment that he died, or she died, whatever the case may be."

87th GENERAL ASSEMBLY
HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES
TRANSCRIPTION DEBATE

41st Legislative Day

April 30, 1991

Some of these lifetime transfers are blatant techniques for evading one's legal obligation to his creditor and his spouse when he dies. The purpose of my Floor Amendment today is to add such technical improvements to my Bill as first, one, making clear that the decedent had, had to the have the right to retain the power to revoke right up to the time of his death, two, making sure the scope of the Bill extended to intestate situations as well as in cases where the decedent left a will, accelerating future interests if the surviving spouse elected to take a share under the instrument of transfer and excluding which the transfer which the decedent had received full money consideration, and lastly excluding from the Bill's operation certain joint property and insurance proceeds. It also would change the effective date so it will apply only to transfers made after the effective date."

Lang: "Did you say earlier in response to some question that it dealt somehow with joint tenancy property?"

Persico: "The part that deals with joint tenancy is only the part that the decedent left in the will, or into the estate, not what the surviving spouse or whomever that he set up a joint tenancy with. It only deals with that person's share, would be subject to the Lifetime Transfer of Property Act."

Lang: "Well, I don't understand how you can do that with joint tenancy property. That's the purpose of joint tenancy property to...to make, to have the property immediately go to the survivors without creditors or anybody else getting in the way. I don't have any problem with the rest of your Bill, I don't think, because I think we're interested in making sure creditors get their money so that nobody can use some technique to avoid their debts. But there seems to be some problem with this section about joint tenancy, and unless...unless you can convince me that, that this, that you're not somehow defeating the purpose of joint tenancy, then I'm afraid I'm going to have to...to be against your Bill."

Persico: "Maybe I can explain it. The part that...what I'm trying to get with joint tenancy is where they set it up for convenience only, where they say, you know, 'This is your pen until I want it back.'"

Lang: "How is a creditor supposed to know whether it's for convenience only or otherwise? They don't list that on the deed. Can I suggest that you take this out of the record so that we can talk further?"

Persico: "I will. I will take it out of the record and work with these Representatives on this Bill.

Speaker Giglio: "He indicates, he will."

Wennlund: "Representative Hartke, would you, with the noise level being what it was, I clearly did not understand what this Amendment does. Could you explain that for us, please."

Hartke: "Representative Wennlund, this Bill was a shell Bill and it came out of Agriculture Committee, with the agreement that I would Amend it on the Floor to create the Specialty Crop Buyers Act. Many of the specialty crop buyers, in the State of Illinois, come to an agriculture community and contract with farmers to buy green beans, pumpkins and so forth. They may be fly-by-nighters, they may be legitimate, we don't know exactly how many there are out there, so, in order for the Department of Agriculture to get a handle on how many specialty crop buyers there are, whether it be zucchinis or popcorn or so forth. What we are hoping to do is establish this Act which requires them to register with the Department of Agriculture. We charge them a $100 fee. We're also going to require them to give us a financial statement."

Wennlund: "Does this apply to out of state dealers in...?"

Hartke: "Anyone buying specialty crop products, farm products, in Illinois, and we will define that in the Act; what are specialty crops. They will be required to buy this $100 registration fee."

Wennlund: "So, the owner of a roadside farmer, who operates a roadside farm stand."

Hartke: "No, No, that is not required under the Act. You're saying if they are doing this...if they're farm manufacturing or further manufacturing for production such as pumpkins, say zucchini, if they are going to sell it through Delmonte or whatever. Individual roadside stands should be exempt, from this, because that is sold directly to the consumer. This is for further manufacturing."

The Senate added...has two provisions that the Senate put in at the Governor's request, and...one was for the WIC program, and the other is for the Department of Children and Family Services. The CFS moneys that's 10 million dollars for that and 29 million dollars for the WIC program. On to that, this Amendment will add a money for AFDC, Aid to the Aged, Blind, Disabled, General Assistance and Refugee Assistance that the Governor has requested. For this fiscal year of 77,300,000. The Governor has requested all the items that I've just mentioned. In addition to that we are adding for FY92 a money for AFDC, Aid to the Aged, Blind and Disabled, General Assistance for AFDC and Refugee Assistance amounting to 942,700,000. This has been requested by the Governor, in his Public Aid budget that was introduced this year. In addition to this money that would, that I've just described, we've added 1 million dollars to the Department in order to process these checks. We've provided 25,000 to the Comptroller to process the checks. We provided 25,000 to the Comptroller so he can pay...so the Comptroller can pay her salary and she can pay the salary of the Director of the Department of Public Aid, so that these can be processed. We have no idea if we're going to be in Session in July, but if we are in Session in July there is no reason whatsoever why people on General Assistance...I'm sorry, why people on...that are receiving these checks AFDC and the others I mentioned, why these people should not be receiving these checks if we end up in an argument over the budget. The purpose of this is to try to avoid what happened in 1985, when we were here until July 8th and there were no checks being sent out. We think its the proper thing to do. We would encourage everyone to sponsor it and we would hope the Governor would sign it."

Speaker Laurino: "Representative McPike moves for the adoption of the Amendment #1 Senate Bill 952. Any discussion? Seeing Representative Ryder's light. Representative Ryder."

Ryder: "Thank you Mr. Speaker. Would the Gentleman yield?"

Speaker Laurino: Indicates he will."

McPike: "That's correct."

Ryder: "And those levels of that Supplemental are at the amount that the Governor has requested."

McPike: "Correct."

Ryder: "But, it also includes a rather peculiar part which is part of the Public Aid budget for the next fiscal year. Is that correct?"

McPike: "Correct."

House. Is that correct?"

Ryder: "Well I don't want to extend myself too long, because four out of four is pretty good, but it seems to me that that is a little peculiar way of going about the budgetary process to be avoiding the committee, and I wonder if you'd elaborate on that just a bit for me."

McPike: "I think I did. I was very forthright in explaining why we were doing this. We are simply taking those checks that should be paid in July, and if we're here in August those checks that should be sent out in August and we're providing that money today. So that we don't end up on June 20th or June 30th or July 1st arguing about AFDC checks. There's no reason that someone that's blind should not be receiving their check on July 1st because we happen to be in an argument over the budget, and I don't think there's anyone on your side of the aisle that would want to see someone who's blind not receiving their check."

Ryder: "I would think that's probably correct, Representative. But I guess the part that concerns me is why it is that you are at this point, not even the 1st of May, anticipating the confrontation in July, when we haven't even had our committee hearings yet, and we haven't had an opportunity to progress beyond that, however, I have to agree since you've selected the Governor's level, and I sincerely hope that you will continue to support the Governor with the other appropriations at the Governor's requested level in order to present a balanced budget so I have to compliment you on that portion of that which you wish to transact."

Amendment #2 is in a complete total the Governor's request for Supplemental which does include some of the supplemental that was previously approved in the prior Bill, with the exclusion that it does not include any additional Supplemental requests for the constitutional officers."

Speaker Laurino: "Further discussion? Seeing none, Representative McPike."

McPike: "Thank you Mr. Speaker. I rise in opposition to this Amendment. I rise in opposition to it because it contains the...General Assistance money that we already passed to the Senate...there's no point in putting that in here. And further it does not contain money for the Treasurer, who has requested 1.1 million or the Attorney General who has requested 399,000 or the Secretary of State George Ryan who has requested 1,114,100, and for the Court of Claims. I dont believe that is in here either is it? And for the Court of Claims. So since this does not...since the Amendment only accommodates the Governor, and does not accommodate the request of the other constitutional officers, I would ask the Democrats to vote 'no'."

I would move for the adoption of the Amendment."

Ryder: "Thank you for your courtesy, Mr. Speaker. We stand opposed to this for the reason that the Supplemental request from the constitutional officers are not accommodated in the budget as indicated by the Governor, although they as a percentage of the amount of the budget are not large...we don't believe that those are accommodated and given a tight fiscal amount of dollars that we have, we are unable to support those portions of it. Representative Balanoff, for what reason do you arise now, Sir?"

Balanoff: "I rise to report that House Bill 1588 was reported out of committee by under a unanimous vote of 21 to 0, when in fact, myself and a number of other Legislators voted 'no'. And we would like to have the tape reviewed because, in fact I'm not sure that House Bill 1588 even received enough votes to be reported out of committee. And so we'd like to have, as I said it was not only myself but there were a number of other legislators in that committee, it was the composting Bill that voted 'no'.
